THIRTY THIRD
CONVOCATION
1997

Lakehead University

Convocation 1997

Saturday, May 31, 1997 marks Lakehead University's thirty third annual convocation for the conferring of degrees and diplomas. The word "convocation" means "calling together". It is a ceremonial meeting of the entire university community. On Convocation Day university members and their guests wear special attire based on a tradition that dates back as long as seven centuries ago. The academic costume, also referred to as academic "dress" or "regalia", had its origins in the ancient European universities. The regalia was devised to distinguish academic persons such as doctors, licentiates, masters and bachelors. In the middle ages they were worn as everyday attire. Gowns were a necessity because of unheated buildings and hoods were needed to cover the heads of medieval scholars.

There are many variations of academic dress. The hood, gown and in some cases the special hat (mortarboard) worn by an individual is determined by the style of the university where he or she received a degree. The colourful gowns and hoods of universities from across Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom and several other nations of the world are worn here today.

The academic dress chosen by Lakehead University is fashioned after that of the University of Oxford, the oldest English-speaking university in the world. The robes worn by the officers of the university - the Chancellor, who presides at convocation, the President (who is also the Vice-Chancellor) and the Chair of the Board of Governors - are all of the Oxford cut and trim. Each has its own distinctive colour. The colourful gowns worn by the individuals who are receiving honorary degrees are of the same design as are the black gowns worn by the student candidates. The ritual at convocation reflects the medieval custom that anyone in a university could wear a gown, but a hood was the symbol of a degree. Students who have met the university's academic requirements (three, four or five years of study in particular subjects) wear the symbol of their status as holders of a Lakehead University degree. Lakehead University's bachelor's and master's degree hoods are distinguished by a one or two inch colour border which indicates the degree acquired eg. white for Arts, drab for Commerce, blue for Education, burgundy for Nursing etc.

In addition to "earned" degrees, the university confers "honorary" degrees which symbolize the highest honour that can be conferred on an individual by the university. An honorary degree may be awarded in recognition of scholarly or creative attainments or distinguished public service to the country or region. They go to individuals who have been designated by the University's Senate, its senior academic governing body, as deserving special honour. At convocation the degree is awarded honoris causa, or "in the cause of honour". A hood is also given to the recipient and it may be worn to any academic affair. Recipients of these degrees become honorary alumni of the University and they may affix, after their names, the abbreviation of the degree. Five honorary degrees, the Doctor of Letters, the Doctor of Music, the Doctor of Engineering and the Doctor of Commerce will be conferred in today's ceremonies.

The Board of Governors of the university also recognizes individuals who have contributed to the growth, development, welfare and well-being of Northwestern Ontario and of Lakehead University. This is done by the conferring of the title Fellow of the University. You will recognize university Fellows by their familiar blue gown with white velvet epitoge or scarf.

During the processional and the recessional the Marshal for convocation carries the Mace, a silver wand which is a traditional symbol of the university's authority. This mace was given to the university by the Alumni Association in 1971. It bears the university's motto Ad angusta per angusta, Achievement through Effort.

Today the university community celebrates its thirty third annual convocation. Its members dress in clothes which are symbolic, not functional, and go through a centuries old ritual for the conferrment of degrees and diplomas. We thank you for being present to share this special event with us.

Photographs - Those wishing to take pictures of the graduates are most welcome to come forward to the left and right of the stage. To avoid congestion of that area, please wait until your particular graduate is ready to receive his or her degree before you come forward.

RICHARD GWYN

Journalist

As one of Canada's best-known and most highly-regarded political commentators, Richard Gwyn's best-selling books and award-winning articles are read from coast to coast.

He emigrated to Canada from England in 1954 following studies at Stonyhurst College and the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst. Except for a brief tenure as executive assistant to the Honourable Eric Kierans, and as Director-General in the Department of Communications, Gwyn's career has been focused on journalism. In 1973, he joined the Toronto Star as its Ottawa columnist giving his political journalism greater exposure. His columns were syndicated in twenty-six Canadian newspapers. Gwyn was appointed The Star's London based international affairs columnist in 1985. This was the beginning of an exciting political era during which he had the opportunity to write about such exciting world events as the end of the Cold War, the end of apartheid in South Africa and the beginning of the Middle East peace process.

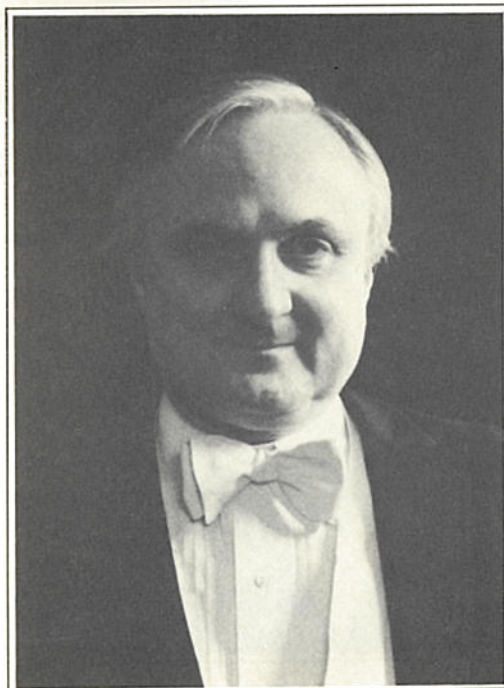

In 1992, Gwyn returned to Canada and commenced his column "Home and Away", which deals with international and national affairs. He is a weekly political commentator on TV-Ontario's Studio 2 and contributes regularly to CBC's Sunday Report and Morningside.

Gwyn's journalism has been recognized with two National Newspaper Awards, and a National Magazine Award. He is the author of two Canadian political biographies: The Unlikely Revolutionary, which recalls the life and times of Joey Smallwood, the first Premier of Newfoundland, and The Northern Magus, the biography of former Prime Minister Pierre Elliot Trudeau. His most recent book, Nationalism Without Walls: The Unbearable Lightness of Being Canadian was published in 1995 and was heralded as being "brilliant" and "original".

The sound of fingers furiously tapping at the computer keyboard is, no doubt, one that permeates the Gwyn home. Richard's wife Sandra is the author of The Private Capital which won the Governor General's Award in 1982, and most recently of Tapestry of War, published in 1992. The Gwyns reside in Toronto.

MARIO BERNARDI

Conductor

Born in Kirkland Lake, Ontario in 1930, Mario Bernardi spent his formative years in Italy where he studied piano, organ and composition from 1938 - 1945. His musical education included work at the Venice Conservatory. Returning to Canada in 1947, Bernardi continued to study at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto.

He first enjoyed a successful career as a solo pianist, chamber musician and accompanist. He began coaching and conducting opera at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto in 1953 and made his Canadian Opera Company debut in 1957.

It was his move to England in 1963 as coach and assistant at Sadler's Wells Opera that established him as a major conductor. In 1966, Bernardi was named Music Director at Sadler's Wells. While in London he guest-conducted the London Symphony Orchestra and the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. He made his U.S. debut in 1967 with the San Francisco Opera.

In 1968, Bernardi became the first conductor of the newly formed National Arts Centre Orchestra. It was he who shaped the orchestra into an organization of extraordinary distinction, noted for its transparent sound, and fine tuning. Other conducting engagements have taken Mario Bernardi to the New York City Opera, the Chicago and Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestras and the Warsaw Philharmonic.

In 1983, Bernardi became principal conductor of the CBC Vancouver Orchestra, and in 1984 he became Music Director of the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra. Despite his busy schedule with the CBC Vancouver Orchestra and the Calgary Philharmonic, Bernardi continues to appear as a guest conductor with such companies as the San Francisco Opera, the New York City Opera and the Houston Grand Opera.

By the discipline of his work and the outstanding results he has achieved as an orchestra builder, Bernardi has proven to be perhaps the most outstanding Canadian conductor of his generation. For his contribution to Canadian music, he was made a Companion of the Order of Canada in 1972.

Bernardi has enjoyed sharing his love of music with his wife, the mezzo-soprano Mona Kelly who was born in Port Arthur, Ontario. He continues his distinguished career as the current conductor of the CBC Vancouver Orchestra.

OLIVE DICKASON

Journalist, Teacher and Author

Olive Dickason is an accomplished journalist, teacher and author. Born in 1920 in Winnipeg, Manitoba, she received her BA in Philosophy and French from Notre Dame College in 1943. For the next 23 years Olive enjoyed a successful career in journalism with several Canadian daily papers. Beginning with the Regina Leader-Post, she later worked as a reporter for the Winnipeg Free Press, as Women's Editor for the Montreal Gazette and the Toronto Globe and Mail. Olive was recognized for her reporting skill with many awards including the McLaren Awards for typography and layout in both 1965 and 1967. She left the Globe and Mail in 1967 to become Chief of Information Service of the National Gallery.

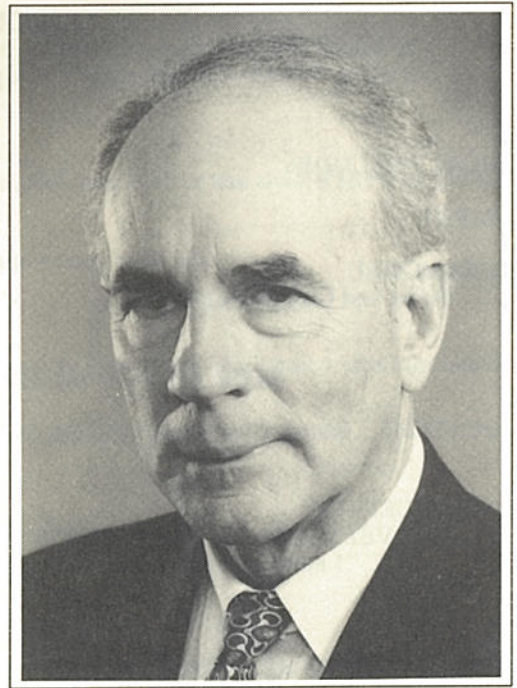

At the age of 50 and with her children nearly grown, Olive returned to the academic field. She received her MA in Canadian History from the University of Ottawa in 1972 and PhD in 1977. During her studies Dr. Dickason wrote Indian Arts in Canada which won three awards for conception and design. Her passion for early Canadian history and her pride and interest in her Metis heritage are reflected in subsequent work. Olive is also the author of The Myth of the Savage and the Beginnings of French Colonization in the Americas, numerous scholarly articles and co-author of The Law of Nations and the New World. As an author, Olive has been instrumental in researching and documenting the importance of aboriginal participation at every stage of Canadian history. In her book, Canada's First Nations: A History of Founding Peoples From Earliest Times, published in 1992, she has tried, she says, to "reverse the perspective of the standard history."

Her career as a teacher began as a graduate student at the University of Ottawa. Olive taught the History of New France, directed a seminar in Canadian History and later lectured on the same subject, with an emphasis on aboriginal history, at the University of Alberta as Professor of History from 1985-1992. She is the recipient of many research grants including the Senior Rockefeller Fellowship in 1989. Dr. Dickason was awarded the title of Professor Emeritus at the University of Alberta. Recent honours bestowed upon her include several honorary degrees and the presentation of the Aboriginal Lifetime Achievement Award by the Canadian Native Arts Foundation. She is also a Fellow at Ryerson Polytechnic University and was made a Member of the Order of Canada in 1996.

Olive resides in Edmonton and continues to pursue her love of Aboriginal history with visits to early Indian archaeological sites.

ROBBERT WELTER

Consulting Engineer

Robbert Welter was born in Indonesia in 1932 and attended primary school in Djakarta. He completed his secondary school education in The Netherlands and attended The Hague Technical University and Academy of Fine Arts from 1951 to 1955 prior to entering officer's artillery training with The Netherlands' Armed Forces Royal Academy in 1956. In 1970, Mr. Welter completed his admissions exams and thesis for the Professional Engineers' Society of Ontario.

Welter emigrated to Canada in 1956 and during a career that has spanned five decades, has made vital contributions to the infrastructure of Northwestern Ontario. His journey began in Winnipeg with Smith Carter Searle, Architects and Engineers. In 1962, he went to work with McIntosh Associates in Thunder Bay and in 1964, St. Jacques and Welter were the beneficiaries of Welter's talents. In 1974, he became a Structural Engineering partner with Graham Bacon Welter where he remained until 1996. This firm has been responsible for the design of many structures throughout Northwestern Ontario from office, residential, and educational buildings to medical and hospital facilities. Robbert Welter holds membership in both provincial and national engineering societies, in addition to being designated a Consulting Engineer in the Province of Ontario.

In 1971, Robbert Welter was appointed Honorary Vice-Consul of The Netherlands for Northwestern Ontario by Her Majesty, Queen Juliana. He became a member of the Lakehead University Board of Governors in 1976, and served as Chair from 1986 to 1988. Mr. Welter has served on numerous standing committees and was the Vice Chair of the Development Council which raised $9,000,000 during the 1984-1987 fundraising campaign. He has been a lay member on the discipline and appeals committee, a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, member and past President of the Rotary Club of Thunder Bay, and he served ten years as the Chair of the Rotary Foundation Committee. He also served as Chair of the professional business division of the United Way of Thunder Bay for three consecutive campaigns and he is a charter and life member of the Dutch Canadian Society of Thunder Bay.

In 1992, Welter was decorated "Knight of the Order of the Orange Nassau" by Her Majesty, Queen Beatrix of The Netherlands.

Robbert Welter is the father of two children. He and his wife Janny reside in Thunder Bay.

ARTHUR MAURO

Lawyer and Chancellor

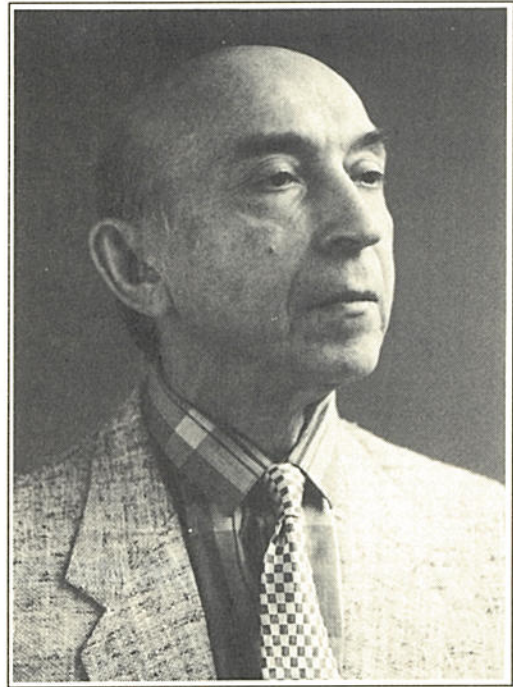

Arthur Mauro was born and raised in Port Arthur, Ontario. The great northern sea beckoned Arthur the summer following high school graduation, when he took a job as a bellhop aboard the S.S. Noronic, the last of the Great Lakes passenger vessels. His travels took him from the sea to land where he hitch-hiked across the United States for another year. This experience helped him appreciate the importance of effective transportation in bridging social and economic distances.

In 1946, he entered St. Paul's College at the University of Manitoba, receiving his BA in 1949, an LLB in 1953, an LLM in 1956 and a Doctor of Laws in 1987. Combined with his extensive academic pursuits, Mauro was active in student politics, serving as President of the University of Manitoba's Student Union and President of the National Federation of Canadian University Students. In 1950, he chaired The World Conference of Students in Stockholm.

Arthur Mauro's law practice focused heavily on transportation issues which he represented before various courts and administrative tribunals. He acted as Counsel for the Province of Manitoba before Commissions on rail and air transportation, and on health services issues. The Royal Commission on Northern Transportation was chaired by Mauro and the Commission's final report formed an integral part of future developments in northern transportation.

After a three year stint in Southern Ontario, Mauro left Toronto in 1972 to return to Winnipeg as President and CEO of Transair Limited. During his tenure there, he introduced jet service to several locations in the North. Mauro is presently Director of Investors Group Inc., Investors Group Trust Co. Ltd., United Grain Growers, Canadian Airlines Corporation, Canadian Pacific Hotels Corporation and most recently, Chair of Crown Corporations Council. His past and present community service involvements include everything from the arts to sports and health. He is presently Chancellor of the University of Manitoba, Director of St. Boniface Hospital, Director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews and an Officer of the Order of Canada.

LOTFI ZADEH

Researcher and Engineer

Lotfi Zadeh was born in 1921 in Azerbaijan and studied at an American Presbyterian Missionary School in Tehran. He graduated from the University of Tehran with a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering. In 1944, Zadeh emigrated to the United States to pursue graduate studies and received the Master of Science degree in Electrical Engineering from MIT in 1946. He completed a PhD at Columbia University in 1949.

He was appointed Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering at Columbia in 1957 and was later promoted to full Professor. In 1959, Zadeh left Columbia to join the Electrical Engineering Department at the University of California at Berkeley. He was awarded the title Professor Emeritus of Electrical Engineering in 1991 and continues to teach and conduct research as Director of the Berkeley Initiative in Soft Computing.

Zadeh's research and primary contributions to the discipline of electrical and electronic engineering have focused on linear systems. His work with Charles Desoer on a text on linear systems theory opened the door to the modern approach to systems analysis and control. Zadeh's work in 1965 on fuzzy sets revolutionized the fields of computing and engineering. The applications of this information over the past three decades can be seen in consumer products, subway trains and decision-support systems. The diversity in applications of fuzzy set theory or "fuzzy logic", as it is commonly referred to today, will continue to impact manufacturing as well as to challenge the basic sciences of mathematics, physics and chemistry.

Dr. Zadeh is a Fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers (IEEE) and was recognized in 1995 with their highest honour, the IEEE Medal of Honour, for pioneering the development of fuzzy logic. He is also the recipient of numerous other medals and awards. Zadeh's expertise is much sought after, creating a hectic schedule that includes teaching, research, committee membership, and editorial affiliations.

Dr. Zadeh and wife Fay live in Berkeley, California. He is the father of two children.

MARGARET PAGE

Public Health Educator,
Professor Emeritus of Nursing

Margaret Page has devoted her life to enhancing the quality of health care and the qualifications of health care professionals. This commitment has taken her around the globe.

In 1945, Margaret moved from her home in London, Ontario to Cochrane, Ontario. Following this, she accepted the position of District Nurse with the Ontario Society for Crippled Children in which capacity she travelled extensively throughout Northern Ontario. This role exposed her to the vast expanse of the province as well as to the health care needs beyond the urban centres of Southern Ontario.

Margaret's marriage to Trevor Page, Professor of Geology at the Lakehead College of Arts, Science and Technology, led to Margaret's attachment to Lakehead. Margaret completed a Bachelor of Science in Nursing at Lakehead complementing her Certificate of Public Health Nursing from the University of Western Ontario, and her Diploma of Advanced Public Health Nursing from the University of Toronto's School of Nursing. She went on to complete a Master of Public Health degree from the University of North Carolina in 1970. In 1973, she joined Lakehead University as Assistant Professor in the School of Nursing. She was Chair of the School of Nursing from 1974-77, received her full Professorship in 1977, and served as Director from 1977-80. Margaret worked tirelessly on many university committees and played a significant role in the evolution of Lakehead's School of Nursing. Upon her retirement in 1984, Lakehead University awarded her the title, Professor Emeritus of Nursing.

During her tenure at Lakehead, Margaret incorporated her love of adventure with her interest in public health. The result was two terms as Principal at the University of Malawi's Kamuzu College of Nursing in Africa between 1980 and 1985. There she was instrumental in the design and evaluation of nursing education. From 1989 to 1990, Margaret worked with the Canadian International Development Agency on a project with McMaster University which took her to Karachi, Pakistan.

Margaret Page has touched the lives of many as teacher, nurse, and mentor with her knowledge and humanitarian approach to life.
