Convocation 2007

Friday, May 25, 2007 and Saturday, May 26, 2007 marks Lakehead University's forty-third convocation for the conferring of degrees and diplomas. The word "convocation" means "calling together". It is a ceremonial meeting of the entire university community. On Convocation Day university members and their guests wear special attire based on a tradition that dates back as long as seven centuries ago. The academic costume, also referred to as academic "dress" or "regalia", had its origins in the ancient European universities. The regalia was devised to distinguish academic persons such as doctors, licentiates, masters and bachelors. In the middle ages they were worn as everyday attire. Gowns were a necessity because of unheated buildings and hoods were needed to cover the heads of medieval scholars.

There are many variations of academic dress. The hood, gown and in some cases the special hat (mortarboard) worn by an individual are determined by the style of the university where he or she received a degree. The colourful gowns and hoods of universities from across Canada, the United States, the United Kingdom and several other nations of the world are worn here today.

The academic dress chosen by Lakehead University is fashioned after that of the University of Oxford, the oldest English-speaking university in the world. The robes worn by the officers of the university - the Chancellor, who presides at convocation, the President (who is also the Vice-Chancellor) and the Chair of the Board of Governors - are all of the Oxford cut and trim. Each has its own distinctive colour. The colourful gowns worn by the individuals who are receiving honorary degrees are of the same design as are the black gowns worn by the student candidates. The ritual at convocation reflects the medieval custom that anyone in a university could wear a gown, but a hood was the symbol of a degree. Students who have met the university's academic requirements (three, four, five, six or seven years of study in particular subjects) wear the symbol of their status as holders of a Lakehead University degree. Lakehead University's bachelor's and master's degree hoods are distinguished by a one or two inch colour border which indicates the degree acquired e.g. white for Arts, blue for Education, green for Forestry, burgundy for Nursing, etc. Lakehead's first PhD degree was conferred in 1998.

In addition to "earned" degrees, the university confers "honorary" degrees which symbolize the highest honour that can be conferred on an individual by the university. An honorary degree may be awarded in recognition of scholarly or creative achievements or distinguished public service to the country or region. They go to individuals who have been designated by the University's Senate, its senior academic governing body, as deserving special honour. At convocation the degree is awarded honoris causa, or "for the sake of honour". A hood is also given to the recipient and it may be worn to any academic affair. Recipients of these degrees become honorary alumni of the University and they may affix, after their names, the abbreviation of the degree. Three honorary degrees, the Doctor of Letters, the Doctor of Laws and the Doctor of Science, will be conferred in this years ceremonies.

The Board of Governors of the university also recognizes individuals who have contributed to the growth, development, welfare and well-being of Northwestern Ontario and of Lakehead University. This is done by the conferring of the title Fellow of the University. You will recognize university Fellows by their familiar blue gown with white velvet epitoge or scarf.

During the processional and the recessional the Marshal for convocation carries the Mace, a silver wand which is a traditional symbol of the university's authority. This mace was given to the university by the Alumni Association in 1971. It bears the university's motto Ad augusta per angusta, Achievement through Effort.

Today the university community celebrates its forty-third convocation. Its members dress in clothes which are symbolic, not functional, and go through a centuries old ritual for the conferment of degrees and diplomas. We thank you for being present to share this special event with us.

Photographs - Those wishing to take pictures of the graduates are most welcome to come forward to the left and right of the stage. To avoid congestion of that area, please wait until your particular graduate is ready to receive his or her degree before you come forward.

Goyce Kakegamic

Artist, Educator, Politician, Social Activist

Goyce Kakegamic was born in Keewaywin in Nishnawbe Aski Territory and raised on the land in a traditional lifestyle. He attended residential school and went on to earn his Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Education degrees at Lakehead University in 1986. He is a multi-talented individual who has made important contributions in three fields: art, education, and political leadership.

First, Goyce is an accomplished artist, whose work can be found in private collections around the world as well as in the permanent collections of the Canadian Museum of Civilization, the McMichael Canadian Art Collection, the Woodland Indian Centre (Brantford), and the Thunder Bay Art Gallery.

Second, Goyce has been a leader in promoting excellence in First Nations education. He worked for a number of years in his home community as a teacher, principal, and Director of Education. More recently, he has spearheaded the establishment of Oshki-Pimache-O-Win, the Nishnawbe Aski Nation's postsecondary institution; participated in negotiations between Canada and NAN towards greater self-governance in education; and been one of the key visionaries in the development of the Northern Ontario School of Medicine, bringing Aboriginal issues to the forefront at all stages of planning.

Finally, Goyce has had a strong voice politically. He was elected Deputy Grand Chief of the Nishnawbe Aski Nation for three consecutive three-year terms, from 1997 to 2006. With quiet determination, he has worked at forging mutually beneficial partnerships between First Nation governments and their municipal, provincial, and federal counterparts.

Instead of seeking re-election in 2006, Goyce decided to focus his energies on the youth suicide crisis, working through a non-profit organization called Aboriginal Family Empowerment. His goal now is to revitalize families and create a future where children will embrace life.

Goyce is married and has four children, three of whom have also become teachers. Goyce says, "What First Nation people want for their children is remarkably similar to what non-native people want for their own children: happy, healthy, productive, and meaningful lives filled with opportunities and choices." All of Northwestern Ontario continues to benefit from Goyce's leadership, vision, and dedication.

Richard (Dick) Pound

IOC Member and Lawyer

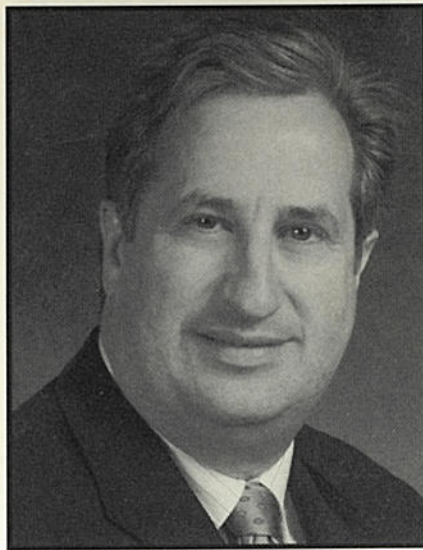

Dick Pound is a tax lawyer and chartered accountant with the Montreal firm of Stikeman Elliott, but he is better known for his work with the International Olympic Committee (IOC) and his outspoken campaign to rid sports of doping.

His interest in sports was kindled at a young age. He began swimming competitively at the age of nine and went on to become one of Canada's top swimmers, representing Canada in the 1960 Olympic Games in Rome and in the 1962 Commonwealth Games, where he came away with four medals.

Dick Pound has been a member of the IOC since 1978, including two terms as Vice-President. Since the mid-1980s, he has been the IOC's chief negotiator for television rights and sponsorships. Described as a "marketing genius," he was instrumental in solving the IOC's financial woes, and turning the Olympic Games into a multi-billion dollar enterprise. In 1999 Dick Pound was appointed the first chair of the World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA), an international organization set up to promote, coordinate, and monitor the fight against doping in sport. Since its inception, WADA has developed and helped implement the World Anti-Doping Code, which provides a framework for harmonizing anti-doping policies in all sports and in all countries. Under Dick Pound's leadership, WADA has worked to toughen drug-testing regimens and ultimately to build a doping-free culture in sport.

Dick Pound is the author of Inside the Olympics: A Behind-the-Scenes Look at the Politics, the Scandals and the Glory of the Games (2004). He has also written a history of the law firm Stikeman Elliott (where he is a partner), a biography of the first Chief Justice of Canada's Federal Court, and Pound's Tax Case Notes.

An alumnus of McGill University, he has served as its Chancellor since 1999. He was made an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1992 and an Officer of the National Order of Quebec in 1993. In 2005 Time Magazine named Dick Pound one of the 100 most influential people in the world.

Richard Buset

Richard Buset graduated from Lakehead University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree (1st Class Standing) in 1973. A Business Law course at Lakehead tweaked his interest in law, and he went on to complete his LLB at Osgoode Hall Law School at York University in 1976. In 1978 Richard was called to the Ontario bar, winning the Practitioners' Prize in Real Estate as top student in the Bar Admission Real Estate course.

He has practised law in Thunder Bay since 1978 and is a founding partner of Buset & Partners LLP. His practise focuses on corporate-commercial, real estate development, commercial real estate, and construction law. As a lawyer, he looks for creative and practical solutions for his clients, and he credits his education at Lakehead University with introducing him to the skills involved in problem solving.

Richard is an active member of the Thunder Bay Law Association and the Canadian Association of University Solicitors. He has contributed to legal education by teaching classes and seminars at the Estate Planning Institute, the Institute of Law Clerks for Ontario, Lakehead University, Confederation College, and the Federal Business Development Bank.

Since 1980 he has served on the Board of Directors of the 3 Cs Reintroduction Centre and is currently its President. He is also a long-time member of the Finance Council of St. Agnes Parish.

As a donor, fundraiser, and volunteer, he has been a vital part of Lakehead University's ATAC ~ Future of the North Capital Campaign to finance the Advanced Technology & Academic Centre. The William H. Buset Centre for Music and Visual Arts on campus is named in honour of his uncle. Richard also serves as Secretary-Treasurer of the Institute of Italian Studies — Lakehead University.

In 2005 Richard was named one of Lakehead University's Northern Lights, an honour given to 40 exceptional people who made a difference in the growth and development of the University over its first 40 years.

The title Fellow of Lakehead University, is the highest honour that the Board of Governors of Lakehead University can bestow upon an individual.

James Dennison

Risk Manager

Like many students, James Dennison took advantage of more than one program at Lakehead University. He graduated with a Civil Engineering Technology Diploma in 1993, but later returned to study commerce. In 1999 he was one of the first students to receive an Honours Bachelor of Commerce with a major in finance. Since then he has continued his education, completing an MBA at the Schulich School of Business at York University and earning the professional designations CFA (Chartered Financial Analyst), FRM (Financial Risk Manager), and PRM (Professional Risk Manager).

After graduating from Lakehead University in 1999, James went to work for the federal Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions (OSFI) in Toronto. He served as Manager and Senior Supervisor of the Life Conglomerate Group, which regulates and supervises Canada's largest life insurance companies, and later as a Director and Design Authority.

In 2005 he joined CIBC Mellon, a joint venture that operates CIBC Mellon Global Securities Services Company (a leading provider of custody services) and CIBC Mellon Trust Company (a leading provider of trust services). As Assistant Vice-President, Risk Management and Portfolio Analysis, James is responsible for developing, implementing, and maintaining CIBC Mellon's risk management program and framework, thus ensuring that business risks are measured and managed appropriately.

He has been active with the United Way, working on the OSFI (Toronto) United Way Campaign as Treasurer and Campaign Chair. He is currently Campaign Co-Chair of the CIBC Mellon United Way Campaign.

James was appointed to the Lakehead University Board of Governors in 2006 and serves on the Finance and Investment Committee as well as the University Advancement Committee. He also represents the Board of Governors on the Lakehead University Professional Plan Pension Board.

David Strangway

Geophysicist and University Administrator

Dr. David Strangway is internationally known as a geophysicist and university administrator. As the son of Canadian missionaries, David grew up in Angola but returned to Canada to attend the University of Toronto, where he completed his PhD in physics in 1960. He accepted his first appointment with the University of Colorado. Later, David taught geology for three years at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

In 1970 he joined the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in Houston as the Chief of the Geophysics Branch. In that role, he was responsible for the geophysical aspects of the Apollo missions. In 1972 he was awarded the NASA Exceptional Scientific Achievement Medal for his significant scientific contributions to NASA.

He returned to the University of Toronto from 1973 to 1983, serving as chair of its geology department and Academic Vice-President. During this time, he was principal investigator in the study of returned moon rocks.

In 1985 he was appointed President of the University of British Columbia. In his 12 years there, his vision and commitment to excellence helped position UBC as a world-class academic and research institution.

From 1998 to 2004, he served as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Canada Foundation for Innovation, which funds research and technology projects in universities, colleges, hospitals, and other non-profit organizations. During David's term, more than $2.7 billion was invested in research, doing much to stem the "brain drain" of Canadian researchers.

Currently, David Strangway is the founder and President of Quest University, which will be Canada's first private, non-profit, liberal arts and sciences university. Quest University will focus on undergraduates and offer a 10:1 student-faculty ratio. It is set to open this fall in Squamish, B.C.

Among his numerous awards and honours, David Strangway was named an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1996. On that occasion, he was cited as "internationally respected as an outstanding scientist and senior academic administrator."

Gwen Dubois-Wing

Health Care Manager

Gwen Dubois-Wing graduated from Lakehead University in 1982 with an Honours Bachelor of Science in Nursing, winning a Dean Braun's Medal for highest overall standing in Nursing. Over the years, she has continued her education with a Master's of Arts in Nursing from the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minnesota, in 1991 and a Master's in Healthcare Administration from the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, in 1998.

Gwen began her nursing career at McKellar General Hospital, rising to the position of Director of Patient Services. From 1996 to 1998, she worked at the Thunder Bay and District Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses as Nurse Manager and Nursing Supervisor.

In 1998 Gwen was appointed Executive Director of the Northwestern Ontario District Health Council, where she was responsible for overseeing major initiatives and planning projects for the health system in Northwestern Ontario.

In 2005 the District Health Councils were dismantled and replaced by 14 Local Health Integration Networks (LHINs) across the province. Gwen was appointed the first Chief Executive Officer of the North West LHIN, which is responsible for planning, integrating, and funding health care services at the local level, including hospitals, community support services agencies, community health centres, mental health and addiction services, and long-term care homes.

Since 2003 Gwen has been a Professional Associate in the Master of Public Health program at Lakehead University. She has also been a lecturer in the Lakehead University School of Nursing and the Office of Continuing Education and Distributed Learning.

Gwen serves on numerous boards and committees for local, provincial, and national organizations, including the Board of Governors at the Michener Institute, the Board of Directors of the Ontario Telemedicine Network, the Provincial Wait Time Advisory Committee, and the Board of Governors of Confederation College.

The Alumni Honour Award is presented to Gwen Dubois-Wing in recognition of her outstanding achievements as a senior health care manager. Her reputation and accomplishments have brought honour and prestige to Lakehead University and the Alumni Association of Lakehead University.
