Lakehead University

A Northern Vision

Our Silver Jubilee provides the opportunity to reflect on our past and look to the future. Today approximately 16,000 graduates can proudly call Lakehead University their Alma Mater.

Lakehead University evolved from the Lakehead Technical Institute which was established in 1946. In 1956 the Lakehead College of Arts, Science and Technology was created by an Act of the Ontario Legislature. A year later it moved to its present site, donated by the former City of Port Arthur. The College expanded in response to escalating enrolment. Courses were added to the curriculum and the College was empowered to confer university degrees in arts and sciences. The first degrees were granted on May 6, 1965. The Lakehead University Act was given royal assent by the Lieutenant Governor of Ontario on June 22, 1965 and came into force July 1 of that year marking the birth of Lakehead University. On May 26, 1969, an Order-in-Council of the Province of Ontario led to the amalgamation of Lakehead Teachers' College and Lakehead University: the first amalgamation of a provincial teachers' college with a university in Ontario. By May 26, 1990, Lakehead University, one of the youngest of the 15 Ontario Universities, will have granted approximately 25,000 degrees.

The present site of Lakehead University has a commanding presence on top of Beach Ridge which was once the shore of post-glacial Lake Superior. The top floor of the Chancellor Paterson Library has one of the best views of the sweeping and spectacular vista of Lake Superior, its moods and colours. The meandering McIntyre River flows through the grounds with the placid and beautiful Lake Tamblyn forming the scenic focal point of the campus.
