When news was released last spring that two anthropology professors at Lakehead were attempting to identify victims of the Titanic disaster buried in a Halifax cemetery, the University was deluged with requests from media outlets around the world including the BBC, NBC's Today Show, CBC's The National and Canada AM, @Discovery.ca, Reuters, Associated Press, The Globe and Mail and National Geographic.

It seemed everyone wanted to know the latest development on a story that dates back to 1912 when 1,517 people lost their lives in the north Atlantic.

It was after viewing a TV documentary on the sinking of the Titanic that Professor Ryan Parr became intrigued by the idea of using his knowledge of DNA analysis to do some geneological sleuthing.

"I believe in reuniting families with their lost loved ones," says Parr. "DNA ties each of us to the generations that have gone before, and those ties are important."

With the advent of DNA identification and the reality of nucleic acid persistence in skeletal material, he says, it is now possible to positively identify and associate deceased individuals with living relatives by matching their DNA 'fingerprints'.

Parr is doing this work in in collaboration with Professors El Molto, the director of Lakehead's renowned Paleo-DNA Laboratory, and Carney Matheson, the manager.

For the past three years Lakehead has offered a summer internship program for students interested in working in the growing field of DNA research.

This year's participants were on hand to celebrate the opening of the newly-constructed Paleo-DNA Laboratory on the top floor of Thunder Bay's Northwestern Ontario Technology Centre. For more information visit the web site: www.ancientdna.com/

The research process conforms to the requirements of the 1998 Tricouncil Statement on Ethical Conduct for Research Involving Humans (the ethics guidelines that cover all Canadian universities), and research expenses are being paid for in part by a grant from Applied Biosystems Inc., a California-based a manufacturer of DNA testing equipment.

Parr is hoping to make an announcement about his findings in the next several months. When he does, there is no doubt that Lakehead University and the other researchers associated with this project will be in the news again.

Vice-President, Research and Development

Tim Buell, a music composer with extensive experience in new technologies for learning, has been appointed Vice-President (Research and Development), replacing John Whitfield who retired in June after a 36-year career (see page 16).

Buell comes to Lakehead from the University of Calgary where he was director, professional development and curriculum innovation, and senior research associate with the Learning Commons.

"I am delighted to be joining the Lakehead community," he says. "Lakehead University is poised to embark on a period of sustained growth and the implementation of new and exciting academic programs and research initiatives. I look forward to being a part of this and helping Lakehead build on its national reputation of teaching and learning excellence."

Buell will be taking a leading role in the advancement activities for Lakehead's new Advanced Technology and Academic Centre (ATAC).

For more information visit the Office of Development's web site and click on "Fundraising Priorities."

Sister Alice Greer

Helping Those in Need

Lakehead University Chaplain Sister Alice Greer was quick to respond to the September 11th terrorist attacks in the United States. By 6 p.m. that evening she was conducting an ecumenical memorial service on campus to help students, staff, faculty and the community deal with their shock and grief.

Sister Alice likes to describe Lakehead in terms of a "tapestry" of religious beliefs, customs and traditions saying, "It is a privilege to touch into the global experience on campus."

She has been providing counseling in the areas of Personal, Spiritual, Grief, and Addictions in her capacity as University Chaplain since 1990.

Sister Alice completed her undergraduate degree in psychology at Lakehead and is currently doing a doctorate in educational administration at the University of Toronto.

During the academic year, Lakehead offers Sunday Eucharistic Celebrations at the Avila Centre. For information call (807) 343-8002.

NORTHERN MEDICAL SCHOOL

In May 2001, the Government of Ontario announced it would create a northern medical school in response to a proposal by Lakehead University and Laurentian University. The proposal for a Northern Ontario Rural Medical School (NORMS) anticipated a twin campus model at the two universities and was widely supported by physicians groups, municipal and business leaders, and Aboriginal organizations all across Northern Ontario. Although the government has announced a school with a main site at Laurentian and a clinical site at Lakehead, nonetheless, the University continues to pursue an operational plan for a jointly managed medical school with full campuses at each site.

PRIX D'EXCELLENCE

Lakehead earned two medals in the annual awards program of the Canadian Council for the Advancement of Education. A silver medal was given to the Office of Communications for Lakehead's 1999/2000 Annual Report and a bronze medal was given to the Office of Development for the fundraising package created for Lakehead's Advanced Technology and Academic Centre (ATAC). The Annual Report is published online at www.lakeheadu.ca/report/

NEW ACADEMIC STRUCTURE

A new academic structure went into effect on July 1, 2001. There are now seven faculties:

Business Administration
Dean: Bahram Dadgostar

Education
Dean: Julia O'Sullivan

Engineering
Dean: Henri Saliba

Forestry and the Forest Environment
Dean: Reino Pulkki

Science and Environmental Studies
Acting Dean: Alastair Macdonald

Social Sciences and Humanities
Acting Dean: Kim Feddersen

Professional Schools
Acting Dean: Ian Newhouse

Thumbs Up

Lakehead's Business Administration students ranked among the top six teams in Canada at this year's Intercollegiate Business Competition held at Queen's University. With the help of faculty advisor Calin Valsan, the 2001 team placed second in the finance competition, third in the new category of business ethics and fourth in debating among the 23 universities participating in the competition. As well this year, all of Lakehead's business students passed their CMA exams — a fact that attests to the quality of education provided by the Faculty of Business Administration.

The Digital Library

In July 2001 the Library implemented a new web-based system to support teaching and research. Endeavor's VOYAGER Information Management System makes it possible to offer a single point of access to the Library's holdings and to multimedia electronic information sources. Faculty, staff and students will now be able to renew items, place holds and check their account activity using personal computers in their homes and offices. Libraries currently using the same system include the Harvard Business School, Library of Congress, and a number of universities in Canada including Queen's, Waterloo, Guelph and Laurier. You may access the new catalogue by selecting the online catalogue button from the Library's home page: <http://library.lakeheadu.ca>

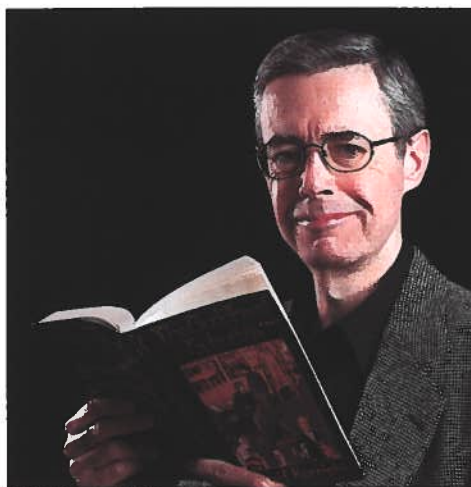

Top of the Class

Christine Chezick, now a process engineer with Bowater in Thunder Bay, earned five awards upon graduating from the Chemical Engineering program in May 2001, including the President's Award, the Dean Braun's Medal and the Governor General's Silver Medal. Chezick says she was extremely happy with her decision to choose Lakehead. The size of the classes, the individual attention she received plus the opportunities to get involved with organizations like the Engineering Student Society all contributed to making the Lakehead experience a "superior" one.

Rick Holmes: A Distinguished Instructor

An expert in 20th century British literature is the recipient of this year's Distinguished Instructor Award. Rick Holmes has been an English professor at Lakehead since 1987. He believes in making students their own teachers and does this by organizing students into small structured groups, giving each group a specific task and then letting the group take control of the learning experience. Says Holmes: "It's amazing how the students take ownership of what they are doing and really become responsible for it."

FORTY YEARS OF SERVICE

There is only one secretary on campus who has worked for all five of Lakehead's presidents and that is Linda Phillips. In September 2001 she retired, thus ending a University career that has spanned over 40 years.

Phillips joined the Lakehead College of Arts, Science and Technology in 1961 as secretary to Principal Harold Braun. "In those early days, the staff consisted of me and a bookkeeper," she says. "I wore many hats: secretary, switchboard operator, mail room clerk, records clerk and examination clerk. You name it, I did it."

When Lakehead University was established in 1965, Phillips became secretary to President William Tamblin and then stayed on to work with Andrew Booth, George Harrower, Robert Rosehart, John Whitfield (Interim President) and the current president, Frederick Gilbert, starting in 1998.

"No-one knows more about Lakehead than Linda Phillips," says Director of Corporate Relations Moe Kytör (BA'68). She assisted Bill Tamblin with the researching and typing of the manuscript for the official history of the institution entitled A Northern Vision. She also helped to organize Silver Jubilee celebrations in 1989-90, and the Quarter Century Club, which hosts annual gatherings for employees who have served the University for 25 years or more.

"I am leaving Lakehead with many wonderful memories and lasting friendships," says Phillips, "and I will continue to follow Lakehead's progress in the years ahead."

Fiona Blaikie

Teaching Art in Thunder Bay

Education professor Fiona Blaikie and former Curator of the Thunder Bay Art Gallery Janet Clark have developed resource materials that are helping local teachers do a better job of teaching art. The kits include color reproductions of art by 16 regional artists: Roy Thomas, Izabela Pioro, Damon Dowbak, Sean Randall, Joyce MacKinnon, Alice Massarro, John Books, Elizabeth Powlowski, Raimo Saharinen, Catherine Kozyra, and Elizabeth Cramb, as well as members of the Visual Arts Department at Lakehead University: Alison Kendall, Mark Nisenholt, Roly Martin, Ann Clarke and Mavourneen Trainor.

The art education kits were developed in response to Ontario's new Curriculum Guide and have been distributed to all elementary and junior high schools in Thunder Bay. Copies are available in the Education Library at Lakehead and at the Thunder Bay Art Gallery.

In May 2001, Fiona Blaikie and Janet Clark were presented with an award from the Thunder Bay Regional Arts Council at the annual Mayor's Arts Luncheon honouring Business and Education.

Michael Poulin

Outstanding Citizenship

Michael Poulin (HBA'01) is a strong advocate for the Aboriginal community. During his undergraduate years at Lakehead, he worked full-time as the HIV/AIDS coordinator of the Ontario Native Women's Association, and was appointed its representative on the Lakehead University Aboriginal Management Council (AMC). He also served as AMC's representative to Senate, president of the Lakehead Social Planning Council, chair of the Aboriginal Interagency Council, and cultural coordinator of the Lakehead University Native Students Association.

During his time at Lakehead, Poulin was instrumental in forming a partnership between Aboriginal students and LUSU which resulted in the establishment of an Aboriginal Awareness Centre on campus.

Michael Poulin is the recipient of the 2001 Poulin Award for outstanding citizenship, an award named in memory of the late Robert Poulin (no relation to Michael) in 1951. For more information about the events and activities taking place at the Aboriginal Awareness Centre, contact Mark Solomon at (807) 343-8814.

Ellie Prepas

Sustainable Water Management

Ellie Prepas, an internationally respected scientist, has been awarded the Canada Research Chair in Sustainable Water Management and the Boreal Forest. Prepas is an expert on cyanobacterial toxins, one of the biggest concerns in fresh water lake quality. As chair, she will focus on the collection and organization of the appropriate data base on fresh water in the Boreal forest and the development of tools to link those data with current modeling efforts for sustainable landscape or watershed management. "Water is one of northern Ontario's most precious resources," says Prepas. "This chair will provide the opportunity to train students who will contribute to a much needed vision of sustainable water management in forested regions." Prepas is the first Canada Research Chair to be appointed at Lakehead. Three other candidates have been nominated: Lionel Catalan, a professor of chemical engineering and an expert in industrial wastes and waste management; Heidi Schraft, a molecular food microbiologist with an interest in improving the safety of our food supply; and Gary Genosko, a professor of sociology who is exploring issues surrounding privacy.

Mary O'Rourke: Caring for the Alumni of the Future

by Jennifer Willianen, Development Researcher and Writer

When several graduates from the General Hospital of Port Arthur School of Nursing (1909 to 1970 PAGH) decided to set up a bursary at Lakehead University, they turned to their former teacher and trusted mentor, Mary O'Rourke (BScN'67), for advice. They had two good reasons for doing so — in 1995 and again in 2000, O'Rourke established Lakehead University awards, one for music students and one for nursing students.

Coinciding with preparations for a PAGH School of Nursing reunion this past summer, several alumnae expressed to O'Rourke an interest in naming a bursary at Lakehead. Their objectives were to preserve their school's legacy and to provide opportunities for future nursing students. Drawing on her first-hand experience, O'Rourke connected them with Lakehead University representatives and then made the first gift to the fund. Over 70 graduates followed suit and collectively donated more than $11,000 to Lakehead University to endow the award.

This bursary, inspired by both O'Rourke's leadership gift and guidance, holds special significance for her. A one-time bursary recipient herself, Mary O'Rourke graduated from the PAGH School of Nursing in 1945 and shortly after joined the teaching staff. In 1956, she was appointed the school's Director of Nursing School Education. Teaching by day and studying by night, she went on to receive a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Lakehead University in 1967. As an advocate of life-long education, O'Rourke dedicated her career to the training of nurses.

With her wisdom and passion for the profession, what advice would O'Rourke give to the Lakehead bursary recipients? She says, "To continue to study, to believe in their principles, and to remember the humane part of their nursing." A message strikingly similar to the one she delivered to her PAGH 1957 graduating class: "Graduation day is only one step higher up the ladder, so continue to study, follow the trends in nursing and always be ready to participate in professional organizations as you are the future leaders preparing the way for the students in the schools of our future."

Fundraising for the bursary continues to evolve as graduates search for "lost" alumnae and encourage further contributions to the endowment. As for Mary O'Rourke and her 1957 prophecy, she can be satisfied that her students became the leaders she'd hoped they would by transforming the memories of their Alma Mater into an opportunity for tomorrow's nurses.

Mary O'Rourke

A similar situation occurred in 1999 when the St. Joseph's School of Nursing (1904 -1970) alumni established the St. Joseph's Nurses Alumni Bursary at Lakehead University. They also created the award to continue the name and memory of their school. For information on either bursary, contact the Office of Development at (807) 343-8300.

Women of Influence

Lakehead has chosen four dynamic women to fill new positions that have emerged as a result of strategic planning and administrative restructuring

Mary Louise Hill

VICE-PRESIDENT (ACADEMIC) AND PROVOST

Mary Louise Hill is a geologist who spent 16 years at Temple University in Philadelphia where she was a faculty member and an associate dean of the College of Science and Technology. Born and raised in Ontario, she completed her undergraduate degree at Carleton University in Ottawa before going on to do a doctorate at Princeton University. Hill joined Lakehead in July 1999. Next to the president, she is the most senior administrative officer.

Kimberly Barrett

VICE-PROVOST (STUDENT AFFAIRS)

Kimberly Barrett is responsible for Student Affairs at Lakehead including the newly created Office of Admissions and Recruitment. Her focus is on making Lakehead's community of scholars one that is more student-centred. Prior to coming to Lakehead in August 2000, Barrett spent three years at Southeast Missouri State University. She holds a PhD in Higher Education Administration from Southern Illinois University.

Susan Soldan

VICE-PRESIDENT (ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE)

Susan Soldan is a graduate of Lakehead's Honours Bachelor of Commerce program who spent 10 years working for the Thunder Bay Catholic District School Board as superintendent of business and corporate services. Since joining Lakehead in December 2000, one of her many tasks has been the process of budgeting which, she says, is just "a way of translating your vision into a numerical language."

Kim Tobin

DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

Kim Tobin joined Lakehead in September 2000 and has been working with the Advancement Committee of the Board of Governors and the Lakehead University Foundation to raise money for the new Advanced Technology and Academic Centre. Tobin grew up in Thunder Bay, completed a degree in Arts Management at the University of Toronto, and is now enrolled in a masters program in philanthropy and development at St. Mary's University, MN.

Every Scholar a Winner!

Did you know that all high school students entering Lakehead with an average of 80% or higher are automatically offered a renewable scholarship? "The higher the average, the higher the offer," says Financial Aid Officer Tracey Marks. Scholarships start at $4,000 and can go as high as $10,000 depending on the student's marks.

Alumni Honour Award 2001

Lakehead presented the prestigious Alumni Honour Award to Peter J. Prior at Convocation last May. Born in Sioux Lookout, Ontario, Prior graduated from Lakehead with a Business Administration Diploma in 1970 and went on to obtain a

CGA designation. He is currently managing director and vice president for national operations with BMO Nesbitt Burns. Throughout the years, Prior has shown his commitment and interest in Lakehead University by way of his involvement in various fundraising activities such as the "Share Our Northern Vision Campaign." Currently he is a member of the Lakehead University Foundation where he is actively raising funds for the construction of the Advanced Technology and Academic Centre.

Award of Merit

Lakehead's Forestry Degree Class of '73 has established an Award of Merit to honour Gary McKellar (BScF'73) who died of cancer in 1997. In April 2001, the first grant of $685 was awarded to Dominic Iozzo of Sault Ste. Marie who is currently in fourth year and holds a special interest in entomology. "Dominic shows his dedication to the profession through his involvement with the School of Forestry, with the Lakehead University Faculty Association and in other aspects of student life," says Royden Potvin (HBScF'73). "The Class of '73 is proud to make this Award of Merit to Dominic. He is someone who exemplifies the same qualities and commitment to the profession of Forestry as our classmate, Gary McKellar."

Meloche Monnex Fellowship

Lakehead secured a Meloche Monnex Fellowship in Alumni Affairs to hire Gord McLean (BA'00) on a one-year contract to assist the University in increasing the number of its Alumni chapters, beyond the current ones in Toronto, Ottawa, Vancouver and Hong Kong. McLean is assisting with an alumni survey and a strategy for alumni chapter development that will strengthen Lakehead's fundraising and friend-raising endeavors.

Did You Know?

Under the Canadian-United States Income Tax Convention, a U.S. citizen is entitled to a charitable deduction for donations to a Canadian university provided he/she or a family member is or was enrolled at that university. Family members include children, grandchildren, parents, siblings, and spouse. We encourage our U.S. alumni, parents and friends to contribute to Lakehead University.

Congratulations, Ray!

Ray Balec, a graduate of Sir Winston Churchill Collegiate in Thunder Bay, is the recipient of the 2001 Alumni Entrance Award.

Balec was the school champion for the Canadian Mathematics Competition for the past two years. He is studying biology at Lakehead in preparation for medical school. For information about applying for the 2001 Alumni Entrance Award contact the Alumni Relations Office.

Lakehead ALUMNI

Thank you to our Donors

The Alumni Association of Lakehead University is proud to present this 2000/01 Alumni Annual Fund Donor listing which contains more than 2,000 names of alumni who have together contributed $150,000 to support various projects and activities on campus.

Our thanks go out to the volunteer chair of the 2000/01 Alumni Annual Fund, Margaret Page, for her tireless support of Lakehead University and the Alumni Association. Also, welcome to our 2001/02 Chair, Peter Prior, and Honorary Chair of the Alumni Annual Fund Advisory Committee, Chancellor Dr. Lorne Everett. We are confident that our leadership team will assist the Alumni Association as we strive to increase alumni support to all areas of the campus this year.

Lakehead University is fortunate to have many alumni donors who have made gifts to the Alumni Annual Fund to foster excellence in higher learning. Every gift makes a difference to Lakehead's future. We would like to recognize the following individuals who made one or more Alumni Annual Fund gifts between May 1, 2000 and April 30, 2001. We wish to also thank those donors who wish to remain anonymous.

This year, the need is even greater. Please be as generous as possible when you receive your call from one of our student callers this Fall. We hope that you will renew your commitment and, if your situation allows, consider increasing your support in to the 2001 Alumni Annual Fund.

Thank you!

THUNDERWOLVES

In Memoriam

Joseph Baratta, a member of the Board of Governors and a former president of the Alumni Association, passed away on August 10, 2001. He was 63.

Baratta held a masters degree in education and devoted 38 years of his life to the teaching profession as a teacher and a principal with the Lakehead District Catholic School Board. He was a staunch supporter of the Alumni Association.

In a profile published in the University's magazine (Nor'Wester) in 1992, he was quoted as saying, "Many people don't appreciate how important Lakehead is to the region, especially the many local teachers who were able to further their education without leaving their jobs and families.... I was first asked to be a volunteer marshall (for Convocation). When later I was asked to serve on the Board of Directors, I said yes; it was my way of giving something back to a university which had given me so much."

With the passing of Joe Baratta, the Alumni Association has lost a true friend in every sense of the word, says Mark Tilbury, the current president of the Alumni Association. "As an Alumni Association Board member, later as president and as an active past-president, Joe's love for Lakehead and his desire to lend a hand wherever needed, never diminished. Whether it was his time, his money or his wise counsel, the Alumni Association and indeed Lakehead University benefited from his generosity."

"In my first year, I lived in Ear Falls residence with a woman named Jenn Thompson. The two of us got along fabulously and the Ear Falls gang really banded together.

"In second and third year I had many chances to become involved with the school. Being on the LUSU Board of Directors taught me a lot... I also had the opportunity to look at the school through another important lens: The Argus.

"It was in third year that I began to realize the extent of my love for literary studies. Dr. Kim Feddersen had a lot to do with that, as did my colleagues in the fourth-year class, Literary Theory and Practice.

"In this innovative, student-centred course, Kim led us on a whirlwind tour of literary theories leading to a series of cooperative learning-based presentations and culminating in a book entitled A Polyphony of Voices: Our Perspectives on Contemporary Literary Theory.

"Anna Martikainen and I wrote a collaborative article based on our experiences in this process for an online conference on university teaching practices. This first article is an important part of my CV and Polyphony of Voices remains one of the key resources in my studies today!"

Rodenburg is currently in New Zealand at the University of Otago working on her PhD in English.

RONALD LESLIE BENNETT GEOLOGICAL TECHNICIAN

Ronald Bennett died suddenly on February 6, 2001, one day after his 81st birthday. He was Scottish born and bred, and lived more than half his life in Edinburgh. He was married to Margaret and would have celebrated his 55th anniversary this year. In 1967, Ronald was offered a position as Principle Geological Technician at Lakehead University. He decided after 33 years in a similar position with Edinburgh University, to accept the offer. This is how his family came to Canada. He remained with Lakehead until he retired in 1985.

Bennett had extensive interests — fishing, gardening, traveling, and ballroom and Scottish country dancing. From 1985 to 1993, he spent the winters in southwest Scotland where he and his wife had a small cottage. There he fished, played indoor lawn bowling and enjoyed the company of the many friends he made.

JOHN HAVEMAN (FORTECH'83)

John Haveman, 39, passed away on January 25, 2001. Born and raised in southern Ontario, he moved to Thunder Bay in 1981 to attend Lakehead. He established Haveman Brothers Forestry Services with his twin brother Dave in 1984, and worked with his brother until the day of his death. Haveman was devoted to his family and church. He was a board member of the Thunder Bay Christian School and a former council member of the First Christian Reformed Church.

LYNN-ANN SIPPOLA (BA/BED'75)

The family of the late Lynn-Ann Sippola, 48, who tragically passed away as the result of a motor vehicle accident on February 26, 2001, would like to thank the many people who generously donated to the Memorial Fund set up with Lakehead University in Sippola's name. Proceeds from the Memorial Fund will help support students in the Education program. On graduating from Lakehead University in 1975, Sippola was awarded the Dean's Medal of Honour in Education. For more information on the Memorial Fund, call Laurie Hill at (807) 343-8300.

ARLENE K. ANKNEY (FOR.TECH'83)

Arlene Karen Ankney, 40, passed away on May 11, 2001. Ankney attended Riverview Public School in Dryden and later completed her primary education in Savant Lake. She graduated from Selkirk High School in Thunder Bay and continued her education at Lakehead University graduating with a Forestry Technology Diploma, later furthering her studies at Sault College in the Fish and Wildlife Program. Ankney took employment with the M.N.R. and the M.T.O. in Manitoba and Ontario before starting with Bowater Inc. in 1989. She loved life and people with a passion, actively pursuing sailing, skiing, curling, hiking, fishing and camping. Her travels took her through Europe, the Mediterranean, most of the United States and Canada. She spent most of her spare time volunteering with Habitat for Humanity, Big Sisters, and the Multicultural Society.

The Calvert Boulder

There is a new landmark in the Agora circle dedicated to the memory of Ronald L. Bennett, a long-time technician in the Department of Geology (see In Memoriam this page).

It's a 14-tonne boulder composed of massive copper, zinc and lead ore with gold and silver values discovered in Aldina Township, west of Thunder Bay.

On hand for the dedication last June was Dan Calvert (left), the prospector who made the discovery, and Margaret Bennett, wife of Ronald Bennett.

The Calvert Boulder symbolizes the significance of the mining industry to the economic development of Northwestern Ontario and the industry and perseverance of prospectors and explorationists.

Quotes and Quips

Taken from some of the speeches given at a dinner held on May 25, 2001 to honour John Whitfield, Lakehead's former Vice-President (Research and Development)

"John Whitfield has made an immense contribution to Lakehead and to the community at large. I know him as a very fair person who listens to and respects the opinions of others. ...During his terms as vice-president (academic), one of his duties (in the absence of President Bob Rosehart) was to chair meetings of Senate. It was here that he was at his best. I used to sit in awe at the way he could control that sometimes obstreperous body. Using his great intellect, and clear, logical thinking he could guide Senate into making sensible decisions...."

"It was in the outdoors that John and I spent a great deal of time. We spent literally thousands of hours in boats and canoes, fishing, sailing, or just exploring lakes and rivers of Northwestern Ontario.... He firmly believes that you should not drive to a lake or a river, even if there is a road. He seems to find it more rewarding to carry a canoe at least half a mile and through a swamp!..."

"Nobody has worked harder, nobody has been kinder or more considerate. Nobody is more deserving of an enjoyable retirement than John...."

— Donald Orr, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry

"Other people have outlined the important role John Whitfield has played. For my part, I would like to give John some unrequested advice. First of all, do not expect to take it easy and relax; after 50-odd years of working hard there is no way that you can just turn off the taps! I have no doubt you will be busier than ever. If there is not enough to do, however, perhaps you might consider these possibilities..."

"There are many other areas, John, where your knowledge and expertise will be valuable. And, if you ever have time on your hands, give me a call. We won't go fishing, but we'll think up some other jobs for you to do."

— William Tamblyn, President of Lakehead University 1965-72

"John really is a legitimate member of a northern university because he is one of the few faculty members who was actually born in northern Ontario. At time when Geoff Weller [Vice-President (Academic)] and I were waxing on about northern this and northern that, John was really our legitimate reference point ... I think you can see in John's commitment to Lakehead and to northern Ontario that the North has really benefited from his contribution and will still benefit."

— Robert Rosehart, President of Lakehead University 1984-97
